THREE MINOR PAILURES.

Mills, Robeson & Smith, Randall & Wier um, and Gragory, Ballon & Co. Go Under,

Ten minutes after the Board opened, the forobeson & Smith was made. The street, of course, expected it, and paid little attention to it. It was developed in the sales made before the rostrum that the firm had been carrying a considerable line of miscellaneous securities. which, while not positively gilt edged as a whole, nevertheless manifested evidences of a conservative strain in the management of the house. The official transactions for the firm on the Exchange were:

Fifteen minutes after the formal announcement concerning the firm that Forger Smith wrocked came word that Randail and Wierum, $0 Exchange place, could not go on. This news was received with interest. Not that the firm was a large or an important one, but the failure was unexpected. Hitherto the suppensions have generally been preceded by unpleasant rumors, but there had been mone in this case. The firm made an assignment to Henry W. Barnes of 54 William street giving preferences to Hamilton L. Whitlock for $1,500. Addison B. Hall for $750. and Emily R. Tomes for 500. The firm was organized in 1871 and was composed of Charles R. Randail and Otto C. Wierum Mr. Randail was the Board member. Mr. Wierum said that his partner was at his home, 48 West Mineteenth street, very sick, some said of congestion of the brain. In all the troubles of the peat week the firm had not had a recognized representative on the Exchange, and this was greatly to its disadvantage. Ar. Wierum, however, had gone shead alone, and even with the shrinkage in the value of the firm's securities had received assurance of assistance that would pull his firm through. At the critical time though this promised aid was not forthooming. The assistance will have a statement of the firm's affairs in a few days. It was not considered a guspension that affected the general struction. The official transactions on Change for the firm's affairs in a few days.

A few moments after II o'clock the suspension of Gregory, Ballou & Co., I New Street, was announced. For a week or more it had been known that the firm was not aitogether solid. The firm was not aitogether solid. The firm was organised on Feb. I, 1888, and consisted of Charles Gragory, who joined the Exchange June 8, 1868; Maturin Ballou, who became a member Dec. 81, 1882, and Curtis P. Gately. The firm made an assignment to Herbert E. Dickson of 59 Wall street. Mr. Dickson immediately took charge of the books but would The firm made an assignment to herbert L. Dickson of 59 Wall street. Mr. Dickson immediately took charge of the books, but could give no prediction of the liabilities and assets. He said that the primary cause of the disaster was the shrinkarg in values, and the immediate cause was that President Brayton Ives of the Western National Bank had changed a time loan of the firm and made it a call loan. Additional batches of securities had been deposited with the bank on Friday, but Mr. Ives notified the firm that if the loan was not paid by Baturday the bank would sell out the firm's security. Mr. Dickson says that Mr. Ives needlessly slaughtered the firm's collateral when it was sold on Baturday, and that he will sue the bank for damages.

A giance at the foregoing securities in the satimation of Wall street people, rube off some of the sharp edges of Mr. Dickson's criticism concerning the attitude of the western National as far as the general value of the collateral offered is concerned. Of course, there are among them gilt-edged properties. But Mr. Dickson's claim for dumages will be based on the allegation that President Ives arbitrarily changed a time loan to a call loan, and, acting on this change, also ghered the firm's securities on the Exchange on Saturday.

A TIME TO MAKE MONEY BASY.

At the Clearing House everything was serene. If he resolutions of the National Bank of Commany were received during the morning, and the Loan Committee and others were gratified at the lone of them. These resolutions were offered at a meeting of the bank's directors by A. A. Low, seconded by J. Pierpont Morgan, and unanimously adopted by the directors. The resolutions in full are:

"Resolved. That the directors of the bank desires to express their entire approval of the section of the Clearing House association is so prompsly providing for the issue of Clearing House certificates against satisfactory collected. That the officers of this bank are directed to invise the consideration of the National and State Banks, associated as members of the Clearing House, to a policy of forbearance in respect to all loans with parties in good standing, extending such indulgence as diroumstances may warrant, to the end that all the banks and trust companies in the city may not be simultaneously calling on their outstoners for money at a time when all are reluctant to lend.

"Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Board,"

"Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Board, expansion is the herole remedy for present ills, rather than uncessing contraction—necessary alike for the promotion of confidence and the maintenance of the value of all assets in possession of our moneyed institutions.

"Resolved, That in furtherance of the above,
the officers be and are hereby directed to apply for Clearing House certificates to such an exvisable.

"Resolved Transition time to time be deemed advisable.

"Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member of the Clearing House Association."

At the meeting of the Loan Committee it was decided not to publish the name of the banks which call for loan certificates. This was in accordance with the line of policy always pursued on occasions of this kind. It was adopted in 1875 and followed in 1885, and will be carried out now. Probably the Loan Committee will decide this morning to tell just how many certificates have been issued up to date, and probably this will be done every morning at the meeting of the Loan Committee. But even this policy is not approved by the majority of the bank Productes in the severast penalty. Their property was estimated on Friday and showed a clear surplus of about 24,000,000. Their debt of over 220,000. Occ land, while the meeting of the Loan Committee. But even this policy is not approved by the majority of the bank Productes in the loans of the loan temperature of the Inmi assured.

As a matter of fact, not many of these, certificates, were going right on with their usual business, and that a number of them were in a position to make solid loans them selves instead of applying for loan certificates.

Many thought, though, that it would be good policy if all the banks would make a call for say from $250,000 to $500,000 in these loan certificates. The argument was used that then there could be no misunderstanding in the country about the condition of the banks were in New York city. SCORING THE BARINGS.

The London Standard's Criticism-A Walting Market in London. By Dunlay's Cable News Company.

LONDON, Nov. 17 .- To-day the amount of the guarantee found by the various banks to be necessary to assist Baring Brothers has been raised to over £10,000,000 sterling. The intention now is to guarantee the whole £15,000,000 of acceptances, and it is believed that there will be no difficulty in doing so. This will put the position of the firm beyond all doubt, and cannot fail to restore confidence. It is as well that the crisis came to a head now, as there was an intention to undertake still further issues for South America. which would have made the lockup still greater.

The attitude of the stock market is one of waiting, and operators want to know what Paris and New York are going to do. The American market has dropped so much already that it may not go much lower, but the foreign market has been well sustained all through the trouble, Paris having been a per-ready that it may not go much lower, but the foreign market has been well sustained all through the trouble, Paris having been a persistent buyer.

The press continues to treat the financial crisis at considerable length. All refer to a certain great house in the city, but only the Standard mentions names. The latter comes out flatfooted, and tells the story of the Barings' difficulties, securing them of extreme recklesaness in making advances to Urugusy and the Argentine Republic. It says:

"Without taking sufficient thought for the consequences, they accepted the most extravarant responsibilities, trusting that their great name would carry everything before it. They have now to pay the benaity of their foily. But the world has not been blind to the course they have been pursuing, nor yet their principal foreign correspondents. Their descent began with questionable methods adopted to sustain the dredit of the Argentine Republic in 1878, when that Government would have defaulted but for the funds loaned by the firm. From that hour until this it is doubtful whether the revenues of the republic ever really; covered the true expenditure; and yet upon such an unstable foundation have the Barings, single handed, reared, within the past five years, a pyramid of debt.

"Rumors began to be circulated detrimental to their credit, and then all felt that the sand of such financiering was only a question of time. The first mercantile business in the world was bound to decay under such conditions. Last week two rumors that has been buzzing about the grand old Bishopsgate street house for months found their way to the Continent, and took definite shape there, to the effect that the Barings had suspended payment. This reaching the ears of the Barings is as good to-day as it ever was, its more legitimate profits being about a million for the year. That kind of business was not, however, considered good enough for men who had started in the modern race for wealth, and but for the ruin in which their have been involved they woul

One of the jurymen insisted that the petitioner be cross-examined on the countercharges made by his wife. The petitioner was accordingly recalled. He testified that he had lived apart from his wife at her express desire. He denied the charges of cruelty made against him and said he had always treated his wife with kindness. He had invited Parnell to dine at his house after challeaging him to fight a duel, because he had been convinced that his suspicions regarding his wife and Parnel were baseless. Sealing Poschers Do a Good Business. CHICAGO, Nov. 17 .- A despatch from Ottawa. Ont., says: Complete returns of the sealing operations of the British Columbia fleet for the season received at the Fisheries Department show that 39,547 seals were taken, an increase of 6,000 as compared with 1889. Of this number 21,888 seals were taken off the coast of British Columbia and 18,165 in Behring Sea, a reversal of the proportions as compared with past seasons. This is altogether due to uncertainty prevailing in the early part of the season among the sealers of British Columbia as to whether they would be molested if they entered the waters of Behring Sea. Twenty-nine vessels were engaged in the business this year. About thirty-five vessels will be in commission next season.

The Condition of the Canala.

ALBANY, Nov. 17 .- Superintendent Hannon of the Department of Public Works returned to-day from his tour of inspection over the canal system of the State. He reports the condition of the canals in general as fair, but says he found that the Schoharie Creek aqueducts and some others were out of repair and in need of new trunks. The great Monteruma Swamp aqueduct and that at Rochester were not closely inspected, but are thought to be in need of minor repairs only. To safely repair these Buperintendent Hannon estimates will require an extra appropriation of about $100,000. The first work to be commenced after the water is drawn down will be that of continuing the Eric improvement by lengthening the eight remaining locks. Superintendent Hannon found the Black River canal locks in a deplorable condition. They were, he said, "fairly melting away," and he will recommend their complete repair or the abandonment of the canal.

In speaking of the results of the year's traffic on the canals he said that Eric boatmen had had an unprofitable season, but that on the Champlain, because of the ice shipped, business had been prosperous. not closely inspected, but are thought to be in girl learned of the outrage, and he is supposed to have left Brooklyn. Mr. Hefferman scoured the town until midnight armed with a knite and hatchet.

It was known that Dreher had money deposited in two Brooklyn savings banks, and it was naturally expected that he would visit the banks early yesterday morning to draw out the money. The Fiatbush police, however, instead of sending officers to watch the banks wasted valuable time in requesting the assistance of Brooklyn detectives, so that when the latter got to the banks, soon after 10 clock, it was learned that Dreher had airedy called and got his money. Canvassers settled one point. The Nineteenth, Mayor Grant's home district, has been claimed candidate 125 majority. The interest lies in the fact that more money was bet on this than on any other district. The figures show that Grant received 9.694 votes and Scott 9.608, giving the Mayor a majority of 186.

The carvass of the Fourieenth district returns was the next most interesting feature of the day. Alforman Curry's friends contested the election of Candidate Jacob Kunzenmann as shown by the police returns, but the figures yestorday also went against the sitting member, kunzenmann's vote wasfeturned at 2010 and Curry's at 1.872; majority, 186. The result is not official, because the blank from the Twenty-seventh election district showed no record of blank or defective votes. It was decided to send for the inspectors. the fact that more money was bet on this than

A Locomotive on Guard.

ELEMANTH, Nov. 17,-The Central Raticoad of New Jersey refuses to let the Elizabeth Passenger Railway Company cross its roadbed at Elizabethport, and has been blocking the orse car company by keeping a locomotive moving up and down at the point wehere it is moving up and down at the point wehers it is proposed to cross. Yesterday the street rall-way men succeeded in laying their rails across the Central tracks, but this morning employees of the latter (ore them up, and then the engine was run to the spot so as to check an attempt to lay the rails again. The City Coupell save the street railway folks pormission to extend their line to the Singer Machine Works, but the railroad company says the Council has no power to compel them to yield the right of way to the street car company to cross the railroad property.
